City's Christmas Gift Is a Water Supply That Guarantees Immediate Expansion

AWARDED MORE THAN TWICE PRESENT CONSUMPTION FROM WATERS OF SANTA ANITA DAM

No Long Wait For The Boulder Dam

The greatest Christmas gift that any California city could receive—an absolute guarantee that it will have forever a water supply greater than that required by any population its area is capable of containing—is contained in a water allocation award just made to Sierra Madre by the Division of Water Resources of the Department of Public Works and received by the city on the very eve of Christmas.

The allocation order gives the city more than twice the supply it now consumes, in addition to that supply, from the Big Santa Anita dam, right at the City's border.

It obviates the long delay that would be necessary and the enormous expense incident to the bringing here of waters from the Colorado river at Boulder dam.

Sierra Madre's Christmas gift is an absolute guarantee of its future—the most favored of all California communities, for no other is now so secure in the matter of its water supply.

By EARL J. LYNDE
City Engineer

Sierra Madre's marvelous Christmas present from the State Department of Public Works is an order directing that it be allowed to take by direct diversion from the Big Santa Anita Dam four cubic feet of water per second which may be supplied directly to the mains and an additional 2000 acre feet per annum for underground storage. Four cubic feet per second steady flow equals 2044 acre feet per year.

The volume of this amount of water is realized when compared to the total consumption in the city of 1318 acre feet.

And more so when it is in addition to the 2000 acre feet which we are permitted to store in our underground basin for future use.

This monetary value of the four cubic feet per second gravity flow at an elevation equal to our Mira Monte reservoir would equal about $40,000 per year in pumping costs alone.

However, it is not the monetary value of the gift that makes it so acceptable at this time.

Many cities in the past would have paid and many would now pay hundreds of thousands of dollars for the assurance of safety in the matter of future water supply which Sierra Madre now enjoys.

The additional water just allocated to us will in itself provide for a population three times the present, while other cities in Southern California are banding together to bring water 200 miles across the desert from the Boulder Dam, for present as well as future need. It is estimated that it will be from seven to ten years before Boulder dam water will be available to these other cities.

The future supply for Sierra Madre is only 2 1/2 miles distant and can be delivered to us even before the surveys are completed for Boulder Dam.

There is plenty of work to be done and money to be spent to bring this water to Sierra Madre but it is small compared to the costs other cities must bear and to the safety it will assure us.

Under the terms of the allocation, work must be started before March 1, 1931, and completed before December 1, 1933.

The actual details and methods of delivery of the water have not been worked out but in brief it will require a pipe line from the dam to the city with appurtenances at this end to turn the water into the mains.

The methods of storing the 2000 acre feet underground are still to be worked out. But these are incidental matters to the fact that the water is ours for the taking and as long as the sun draws water from the ocean into clouds and the clouds drop it in rain over our water sheds we are assured of a water supply adequate for a maximum population.

Santa Claus Pays Visit To The Shut-Ins

Red Cross Caravan Of Good Will Inaugurates Holiday Season Here

Santa Claus and Miss Nineteen Thirty One, inaugurated the holiday season in Sierra Madre last night.

Accompanied by 40 carollers and heading a caravan of trucks carrying boxes of good will and of cheer besides the most beautiful Christmas tree ever seen here, they fared forth on their annual mission of carrying gladness and the spirit of Christmas to the city's "shut-ins" under the auspices of the local chapters of the American Red Cross.

Preceded by Boy Scout buglers the gay caravan left the Red Cross headquarters as the shades of night began to fall upon the city. W. R. Humphries, who originated the idea of the traveling Christmas tree last year essaying the role of Santa Claus and little Leona Shields representing the New Year. The car in which they rode was filled with Christmas holly.

A gorgeous tree, brilliantly lighted by its own lighting plant, and mounted on the largest of the city trucks, followed and behind it came other trucks loaded with beautifully covered boxes of "goodies" donated by generous, thoughtful Sierra Madreans.

The 40 carollers from the choirs of the Congregational, St. Rita's and Bethany churches under the direction of Mrs. Donald Ashmore followed in automobiles and a school bus.

The caravan inspired the Christmas spirit everywhere as it moved through the shopping district to the residential and began its dispensation of gladness.

It halted 80 times, with the tree directly in front of the home of a shut-in, when Santa Claus and Miss Nineteen Thirty One bounded out of their equipage and into the home, followed by Boy Scouts Blake Manning and Henry Neutzel, carrying the Christmas boxes. Santa Claus carried the season's message of good will and little Miss New Year left a bunch of holly at each home.

And while they were making their visit the carollers gathered under the tree and sang their songs of cheer, accompanied by Mrs. George B. Morgridge at the organ and Mrs. Homer Glidden and Donald Blanke with trumpets and Leroy McBurney and Linden Murray with saxophones.

The Christmas tree which was decorated by Frederick S. Ackley and his son Bob assisted by Janet Murray, was a beautiful sight and the object of admiration by everyone.

After the tour of the City, refreshments to the workers were served in the American Legion headquarters in the City Hall, with Miss Lydia M. Webster and Mrs. Fred Griebnow in charge.

The official buglers who announced the arrival at each stopping place were Scouts Herbert Grammel and Graham Patterson.

Red Cross Chairman Humphries last night said that on behalf of the local Chapter he wished to thank everybody for their help, which was expressed by gifts of items that went into the Christmas boxes and including of course the great help given the enterprise by the many who gave their time.

Masonic Officers Will Be Installed Tuesday Evening

The Twenty-first annual installation of officers of the Sierra Madre Masonic Lodge, No. 408, will take place next Tuesday evening, December 30, at the Masonic Temple, 33 East Central avenue, at 7:30 p.m. The installation ceremonies will be preceded by a dinner in charge of "Billy" Murphy, at 6:30.

Isabel M. Reneker, inspector for the 90th Masonic District, will be the installing officer, and Justus Kraft, P.M., will be the master of ceremonies. The music will be under the direction of Mrs. Myrtle G. Hill.

Nine Win Prizes At Year's Largest Social Event Here

The Volunteer Firemen's annual dance and card party at the Woman's Club house last Saturday night was the most largely attended community social event of the year.

The clubhouse presented the appearance of a forest of pine trees mantled in snow. The Pasadena Fire Department orchestra, from a stage overhung with icicles, furnished the music for the dancing.

Prizes at cards were won by R.M. Emile Sturathal, Charles B. Klunk, Mr. Tony Devesco, Waverly E. Pratt, Mrs. Frank Lovell, Mrs. W. J. Ropp, Frank Zeth, Mrs. F. Roess and Mrs. William C. Dalsell.

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS KING OF PEACE AT BETHANY CHURCH

"The King of Peace," by Emerson, was the cantata ably presented to a large audience last Sunday evening, by the Bethany choir, under the direction of Roy F. Stevens.

The vocal numbers were interspersed with Scripture, both of prophecy and the fulfillment of prophecy, which was read by the pastor, Rev. W. D. Ogg. Soloists were Mrs. Roy F. Stevens, Mrs. Ralph D. Campbell, A. Leffring, and Mr. Stevens. Merrill Jensen was the accompanist.

Next Monday evening, December 29, the Bethany choir will present a varied program from 8 to 9 o'clock over radio station KTBL.

Prizes Awarded For Best Holiday Window Displays

Chamber of Commerce awards for the best holiday window displays by Sierra Madre merchants were announced last night by the chamber's committee, consisting of Ella Shepard Bush, R. D. Van Horns and W. H. Morrow, the committee at the same time awarding the Sierra Madre grammar school first prize for the best window display arranged by its pupils and second prize to the pupil of St. Rita's parochial school.

The windows of the Wheeling Hardware Company took the first prize in the competition among the merchants, second prize going to The Rikemans gift and stationery shop. The official ribbons will be added to the displays this morning when the official presentations are made by the committee.

The window at 19 Kersting Court, the work of the 2B children, won the first prize of $3 in the school competition. It presents, with excellent constructive skill, a charming illustration of the Christmas theme.

The St. Rita exhibit at 17 Kersting Court was awarded the second honor with a $2.50 prize, on account of the well-executed work, cleanliness and variety.

Fair Christmas Day

A disturbed condition in the Pacific makes the Christmas weather somewhat uncertain, but Col. H. B. Hersey at Sierra Madre's U.S. weather observatory said this morning that the chances were four out of five that tomorrow will be fair.

Wide Chasm Divides The Canyonites

Proposal To Abandon Improv- ment Program Resented By Residents

Radically different views on the Canyon Park paving project were expressed to the City Council by resident and non-resident property owners of the district at a session of the Council on Friday night to hear further protests against the tentative program before the Council.

Demands by Long Beach, Pasadena and other non-residents that the whole matter of new streets for the canyon be abandoned or indefinitely postponed were greeted by cries of "Please don't do that" and "we want roads" from Canyon residents.

The year-around residents made it plain that roads are a necessity to their welfare and the value of their holdings.

The non-resident owners made it equally plain that they had bought in the Canyon because of its natural rustic beauty in order that they might come here and rest and play over week ends, during vacations and on holidays and paving or other improvements, they said, would spoil the district for their purposes.

Objections to the paving of Holly and other trails was renewed.

At the outset of the hearing the Council announced that the compromise proposal submitted for lot owners in Long Beach was (Continued On Page Six)

Celebration Of Christmas Begins Here

City Will Entertain Lavishly After Community Party Tonight

Sierra Madre has welcomed Christmas joyously—whole heartedly and with a deep appreciation of its significance. Gayer in its decoration that it has ever been before the spirit of good will has been growing and Christmas cheer spreading since the inspiring services held in the local churches on Sunday, when the holiday season was ushered in.

It reached its highest pitch last night when, following various holiday activities of the day, Santa Claus went forth at the head of a brilliant and beautiful Christmas Red Cross caravan to visit the shut-ins.

Tonight comes the community celebration about the dazzlingly beautiful deodar in the City Park with the distribution by the Volunteer firemen of candy and toys to the children and the later distribution of bountifully filled Christmas baskets to the less fortunate of the city's population.

The firemen and their wives and sweethearts worked industriously last night filling the last of the 500 stockings the children will receive and the baskets of food and remembrances that will go to the needy.

The firemen themselves made a supreme effort to finish the $10,000 piece of fire apparatus they hope to have ready to turn over to Santa Claus for formal presentation to the city. It is doubtful whether the paint will be dry enough to permit of this feature of the celebration.

The community celebration at the tree will begin promptly at 7:30 this evening and will be brief and without formality so that the children will be able to meet Santa Claus, receive their stockings and return to their homes in good time.

Santa Claus will stand under the tree and assisted by the firemen in uniform will pass out the well-filled stockings to his young friends as they file past him. Tomorrow the city will celebrate with family reunions, dinner parties and with much joy. In nearly every household there will be a family celebration of some sort and it is estimated that more than half of the families of the city will entertain guests from other communities.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Albrect of 689 West Alegria avenue, are entertaining with a Christmas dinner party Thursday at their home, honoring Josephine Wright and Dorian Patterson, little Indian children from the Indian reservation at Reno, Nevada. There will be an outdoor Christmas tree for the children and presents will be distributed in front of the fireplace to those present. The invited guests are Mrs. Gleta Mapes, Mrs. Ring, government nurse on the Indian reservation, and Josephine Wright and Dorian Patterson.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Andrews of San Gabriel are entertaining with a Christmas breakfast Thursday morning. The Christmas tree and the presentation of gifts will be held in the morning, leaving the rest of the day free for the guests to enjoy as they wish. The invited guests include Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Andrews of Sierra Madre, Mrs. Grace Andrews Henry and Mrs. Elizabeth Andrews Peard of Hartford, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hull of 542 West Montecito avenue, will be host and hostess Christmas Day at a dinner party for Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Hull of South Pasadena, Mrs. Blanche Hull McCree of Pasadena, Charles and Cynthia Hull.

Mrs. C. H. Adams of 257 Wilson avenue, will entertain Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Dement and son, Harlan, of Van Nuys, and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Dement of Pasadena, at a dinner party on Christmas Day.

A family gathering will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. N. Addis, 320 West Grand View avenue, on Christmas Day. Guests will be present from Long Beach, Los Angeles and Pasadena.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hogan are entertaining with a Christmas dinner at their home, 621 East Central avenue. Their guests will include Mr. and Mrs. M. Aragondo and Mr. and Mrs. J. Davis.

Our Christmas Wish

WHEREVER there is sickness,
May Santa Claus bring health;
Wherever there is poverty,
May Santa Claus bring wealth;
Wherever one is weeping,
May tears to smiles give way;
Wherever sadness hovers,
May joy come Christmas Day.

TO every heart that's aching,
May peace and comfort come,
And may an outlook rosy
Supplant each outlook glum;
May friends now separated
Soon reunited be,
And everyone find gladness
Upon this Christmas tree.

An Old Story Is Told With A New Charm

The Nativity Pageant Thrills Large Audience At Congregational Church

By MRS. R. O. CAUKIN

Christmas was no more beautifully celebrated anywhere than in the Congregational Church last Sunday evening. The beautiful story of The Nativity, founded on the Cook version but enlarged and set to music, was given under the direction of Mrs. J. Milton Steinberger, ably assisted by willing and efficient workers.

The inspiring solemnity was given a lovely background with the decorations and lighting, the ringing of the church bells at intervals and an augmented choir which rendered the ever-new and still lovely old Christmas hymns to the delight of a large audience.

The finishing touch was the lighting of a very beautiful outdoor Christmas tree, after the congregation had assembled, and caused considerable surprise, as it had not been in evidence before the opening of the service.

Muriel Tarr was a lovely Mary, and Edwin Ward handled the part of Joseph admirably. The shepherds were Leroy Mc-

Burney, Raymond Tarr and Lester Bodine, and the little shepherd lad was Alberto Becerra.

Twenty-eight lovely angels lighted the Church with their candles, and seven of them acted as escort to the shepherds, and to the kings. The latter were R. O. Caukin, E. E. Bacon and C. W. Jones, with Alfredo Portilla, Sammy Embree and Billy Adwell as pages.

Mrs. Steinberger had as assistants Muriel Tarr, "Tim" Manning and Mrs. N. H. Hutton as a costume committee, Harriett Grant and Mrs. L. Gray as a property committee. Virginia Jones was chairman of the committee in charge of decorations and Rudolph Hartman had charge of the lighting effects.

Three gorgeously decorated cathedral windows were the work of Ruth Wheeling and caused much comment. Mrs. Myrtle G. Hill as choirleader led a choir of 15 members, adding much life and harmony to the picture.

Juniors Of Woman's Club Will Sponsor Midnight Frolic

A gala midnight New Year's Eve Frolic, sponsored by the Juniors of the Woman's Club, will usher in the New Year, next Wednesday night at the Woman's Club. Adequate favors and noise makers will be supplied to make the night a festive one. Mrs. M. R. McBurney will have charge of the hot supper, which will be served at midnight. Dancing will begin at 9 o'clock. Bridge, 500 and games of various sorts for those not caring to play cards, will be the diversion for the evening. Mrs. George Lehner will be the hostess in the card room.

Reservations for the dinner may be made with Mrs. Nestor Young at Blue 13 or Mrs. Elmer Green at Black 15. Everyone is urged to attend.

The patrons and patronesses for the evening will be: Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Reavis, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Myers, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Humphries, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holland and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Asbury.

COMMUNITY PLAYERS ELECT HUMPHRIES

W. R. Humphries was elected president of the Sierra Madre Community Players by the directors at a meeting last Friday night, to succeed Norval MacGregor, who recently resigned.

Mr. MacGregor will continue to direct the players and supervise "Are You a Mason?" which is now in rehearsal and which will be presented in the new School auditorium for the Masonic lodge and Eastern Star. E. D. Burbank was appointed as a new director of the organization.

Mrs. Addis Downing of Beverly Hills, was the guest of Mrs. Rachel Myers on Monday afternoon.

Favorite Dishes Of Sierra Madreans

FOUR avocado salad recipes of Mrs. Herman Hall are timely, not only because avocados are so plentiful and so good this year, but because of the holiday season and the variety of servings that these easily prepared recipes make possible. Here they are:

1.—Peel, cut in halves and fill centers with fresh or canned Chinese Lychee nuts. Serve with French dressing.

2.—Peel, cut in halves, fill centers with chopped celery and onion and garnish with pimento. Serve with French dressing.

3.—Slice avocados lengthwise and use finger slices of pineapple. Bind with heavy French dressing and garnish with raisins.

4.—Use half avocado for each service. Fill seed cavity with a mixture of grated pineapple and mayonnaise. Garnish with dates.

Funeral services for Mrs. Carrie B. Thomas, 73, who died last Thursday at her home, 118 East Highland avenue, were held on Saturday from the Ray A. Grant Funeral Parlor, 201 West Central avenue, with Rev. William Duncan Ogg of Bethany Church conducting the services. Mrs. Thomas had been a resident of Sierra Madre for the past seven years and was a member of Bethany Church. Interment was in Sierra Madre Cemetery. Surviving relatives of Mrs. Thomas are Mrs. N. E. Bridgens of Kansas City, Kansas, a sister; a niece, Valla Wilcox, teacher in China; four nephews, Leroy O. Bridgens and Haskell E. Bridgens of Kansas City; S. O. Bridgens, of San Diego, and Guy E. Wilcox, professor at the University of Chicago; and a niece, Ethel F. Bowser, of Spokane, Wash.

Southland's Legislators Take A Stand

Will Demand Apportionment Of New Congress By Population

"Congressional reapportionment by population and not by acreage" is the slogan that went out from what amounted to a caucus of Southern California members-elect of the Legislature at Riverside on Saturday. They met with business leaders of the Southern counties at the instance of The Economic Council of Southern California and John C. Austin, of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, presided. Every county in the Southland was represented and as a result of the meeting Governor Rolph will be waited upon by a committee to urge that he disapprove any Congressional apportionment not based on population. Following the conference Chairman Austin issued a statement in which he said:

"At the invitation of the council, many of the legislators of Southern California met with the group today. The council urged them to band together and to stay together until fair Congressional representation is given Southern California on the basis of population."

H. C. Scott of the Sierra Madre Taxi Co., drove Federal Judge W. A. Cant of Duluth, Minn., a house guest at the W. H. Wilson home, 389 Lima street, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wilson to Riverside and Redlands on Monday.

MEN CALLED BACK TO WORK AS CONFIDENCE OF PUBLIC RETURNS

With more than 5,700 men added to the Hudson-Essex employment total, the number of wage earners at the plant today is 9,244. It was stated by William J. McAneeny, president and general manager. This figure compares with 3,500 a month ago. More men are being taken on, week by week, but it is emphasized that all of these are former employees who have been notified to return to work.

"Returns from every section of the country reporting the reception of our new models are strongly indicative that the business stagnation is practically over. Returning confidence is everywhere evident and it is as a result of this changed condition and the active buying of our new models that we are able to play this part to relieve unemployment in Detroit and in other centers from which we obtain our large supplies," said McAneeny.

DOUBLE FEATURES AT THE EGYPTIAN

Warner's Egyptian, the nearby theatre in Lamanda Park, presents two big feature pictures Friday and Saturday, with Moran and Mack in 'Anybody's War' and James Cruze's 'The Big Fight.'

Sunday and Monday, December 28 and 29, will bring the most unusual picture ever filmed, 'Africa Speaks.' This picture will hold you spell-bound for hours.

Clara Bow in 'Her Wedding Night' will be the feature for Tuesday and Wednesday, December 30 and 31.

At midnight Wednesday a gala midnight New Year's Eve matinee will be held, at which time 'Extravagance' with June Collyer and Lloyd Hughes, will be shown. Another double feature, 'Reno,' with Ruth Roland and the 'Lone Rider," starring Buck Jones, will be presented Thursday and Friday, January 1 and 2. All performances are completed with suitable comedies and short subjects.

UNIQUE FEATURES AT CHRISTMAS PARTY FOR 40 YOUNG WOMEN

With 40 seated at one long festive table, Mrs. Frederic S. Ackley entertained her Bible Study class of young professional women of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Pasadena, at her home on Saturday evening, the event marking the second anniversary of her leadership of this group. Local friends dropped in during the evening to enjoy the fun, and W. R. Humphries played Santa.

The house was decked in Christmas greens and poinsettias and the centerpiece was a scene of faerie splendor; snow covered minarets and towers overlooked a field of spun glass snow, with carollers, glass reindeer and Santa bathed in the glow from concealed colored lights.

The guests came dressed as children, carrying dolls and toys which had as their ultimate destination a Christmas tree for homeless children. Attractive menu cards used nursery jingles descriptive of each course, and clever favors were in the form of snowboys, each astride a big snowball which concealed a nut cup, while beside each sparkled a tinsel tree.

The program included the reflection on a screen of the baby pictures of those present, the identity of which had to be guessed by the rest. The guests included Rev. and Mrs. Claude A. Smith, minister of education and wife, of the church.

FUNERAL TODAY OF JOHI McKEON, FORMER KEYSTONE RESIDENT

John W. McKeon passed away at his home, 36 West Mira Monte avenue, Monday morning. Mr. McKeon was born in Rosscannon, Ireland, 50 years ago, coming to this country four years later. He grew to manhood in Franklin, Pennsylvania. Ill health forced him to resign his position as vice-president of the West Michigan Steel Foundry at Muskegon, Mich., two years ago and move to Sierra Madre.

Surviving him are his mother, Mrs. D. McKeon, a sister, Mary McKeon, and a brother, James T. McKeon of St. Joseph, Mich.

Solemn high mass will be held at St. Rita's Church at 9 a.m. Wednesday. The body will be sent to Franklin, Pa., Thursday morning for interment in the family burial plot Monday morning.

Here and There

By H. L.

If this "column" pleases, it may become a regular feature, the writer having oodles of time at his disposal, an intense appreciation of Sierra Madre, and no desire to do anything by "good."

Sierra Madre has brought health and hope to hundreds, having a little the best climate for "run-down" or aged people in all America, and proves it by transforming many invalids into healthy, alert, energetic and happy people, adding to their span of life by a salubrious climate of maximum sunlight, and inspiring one and all with views of rare magnificence. (And the local physicians are skillful, too.) Bronchitis yields quickly here. So does asthma. Retire "tired" business and professional men become rejuvenated without drugs or surgical aid, and go speeding off to attend affairs that had become a burden.

Said the psalmist: "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help." And helpful hills close up are one of Sierra Madre's chief charms. They DO help.

In quite a few ways, Sierra Madre is noticeably different from any other of Los Angeles' suburban "bedrooms." Daily a majority of the men of most suburbs journey cityward, returning at night to eat and sleep. Some do so from Sierra Madre, but only a small percentage compared with the usual daily exodus prevailing in other suburbs. A very large number of Sierra Madreans do not commute.

Newspaper men, editorial writers, head-writers, a noted "columnist," a meteorologist of wide fame in charge of this western weather bureau, clerks and employees of business institutions in Los Angeles, and a few others, get abroad the "big red cars" of the Pacific Electric or into private autos (for there is no bus service here,) and speed in every morning right smart early, returning at night. Of course, every inhabitant at times goes "to the city," but traffic is light compared with what most Los Angeles suburbs produce.

There are many "writers" in Sierra Madre—some quite successful ones, others equally industrious but as yet unrecognized by publishers. Long ago, Eugene Field spent a vacation here and endorsed the local conditions from the needs of a poet and prose genius. Others of almost equal fame have enjoyed visits here. It is a "creative" atmosphere. Some noted artists have built studios in selected spots. And Sierra Madre does not lack for musicians. Only Carmel up north, with its fog and cold summer days, and Laguna Beach, south of here on the ocean, have larger art colonies in numbers—none has greater quality. The nucleus is here for a great art center.

No one is in much of a "hurry" in Sierra Madre. Sauntering is the common gait. There are so many beautiful gardens to examine as one walks about that it seems foolish to "rush" around as one does some places that could be mentioned. People stop and look here, and for good reasons. From every corner is a view of entrancing beauty, either of the near mountains or of the wide San Gabriel Valley several hundred feet below. One can look up or down on the landscape just as one feels inclined, or view the well-kept home gardens of nine out of ten occupied residents.

And, probably this is enough for an opening "column," so the remarks will continue next week.

Fire Flames

By one of the boys

YOU may have expected us to tell this week who we consider the best dancer among the firemen, or who gave the best terpsichorean performance at Saturday night's big annual event. But we prefer to have a decision on this score from the ladies—or a board of judges. And, anyhow, modesty forbids our making any such award.

The men of the fire department have been very busy of late. With the ticket selling and preparing the Xmas stockings, etc., they have had plenty to do. Added to this is the work on the new truck. Much rubbing down and sanding was required to accomplish a good paint job.

Our old friend, Harry Peterson came over frequently from Arcadia to help with the painting. He and Milt Steinberger did the finish job.

Going into the city hall now, we find that several of the departments have switched rooms. Chief McMillen and his staff now have headquarters in what was once the engineer's room. Joe Swanson is located in the rear of the building also. Joe is located near the police department so as to aid in the solving of the great picture disappearing mystery.

We had in our "compartment" a picture that hinted on art, and which was greatly adored and cherished by a number who were inspired by its attractiveness. This print was a source of an unusual amount of conversation, and at times abstracting from the important discussion in progress. Many times the chief was interrupted in his order of business by references to the picture. It has vanished and the skill of the police department has been requested in order to determine what varmin-minded imbecile has taken the picture home to his own residence.

Fingerprints are the only solution and "Mac" says if the mouniers desire to spend the money he will soon tell them who removed the picture. They have already found a dirty finger print, which would throw a strong suspicion on Jim Heasley, who has been called a "dirty crook" by Louie on many occasions. However, as the picture is missed, we wish "Mac" success.

Our beloved brother fireman and police officer, Harlan Gerlach has been feeling tough of late. It was necessary for Harlan to stay abed one day last week. We hope he is feeling better again and that the lost picture hasn't overworked his mental capacity.

Among the participants in a "kiddie kar" relay race at a men's community lark last week, was "Shorty" Steinberger. "Shorty" won by a leg.

We see by "The Lee Side of L.A." that George Norris still blows his horn. He said he could not remember all the names of all his girls. Maybe the picture has gone to his head too.

The wives of the boys are by now curious about this much mentioned picture. It will be quite necessary to avoid any explanations during the procedure of the police activities on the matter, after which the boys are at freedom to openly discuss the case, (if they so desire).

Don't forget that the day after Xmas is our regular meeting night. The Chief urges you not to eat too much on the Big Day, as we shall have our usual feast.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming the habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store.

"My common sense has told me that the Exchange ought to find the best market for my fruit. It sets the pace. It is able to know the market as other agencies can't hope to. Its fruit has the benefit of a long-standing brand preference. And it stands to reason that it should give a better service at lower cost because it has the advantages of large scale operation.

"In spite of cold, hard reasoning I've tried the other methods. I've checked them all in dollars and cents. And now I'm in the Exchange for good—because on the average, year in and year out, short crop and heavy, the checks are bigger when I sell with the majority."

The facts are that no fresh fruit industry in the world has sales and service facilities comparable to those of the Exchange. And without them, none is able to get comparable returns. WHAT THE EXCHANGE IS: The California Fruit Growers Exchange is a non-profit organization of more than 12,500 citrus fruit growers, producing about 75% of the California and Arizona citrus crop. Organized by and for them on a cooperative basis. Its object is to develop the national and international market for its Oranges, Lemons and Grapefruit, and to provide a marketing organization that will sell the fruit of its members most advantageously and at least expense. Receipts from sales, less only actual cost of operation, are returned to growers. Applications are received through all the Exchange's 210 local packing associations, 23 District Exchanges, or at the central office in Los Angeles.

Wide Chasm

not before the body in the form of a legal petition and could not be considered when the Council had before it a legal petition demanding that the work be done.
D. J. F. Willett, who circulated the petition demanding abandonment and who also submitted the compromise proposition, was advised that the Council wished to know exactly what the Canyon property owners did want and that it would welcome the circulation of a petition to ascertain their wishes.
Mr. Willett, who had previously announced he believed the lot owners would receive a square deal, declared he would not circulate another petition and suggested that the whole matter be indefinitely postponed or abandoned.

"Who is going to pay for the work that has already been done if the whole project is to be killed?" demanded Frederick Schialos, "Why didn't these people who are so anxious to have their own way now or to kill the whole program interest themselves when plans for these improvements were being made?"

Members of the Council suggested that Council let the matter rest for 30 days until taxpayers decide just how much they wanted the program scaled down, just what roads they wanted and did not want improved and until they had had an opportunity to sign up petitions setting forth their wishes.

This brought a storm of protest from the non-residents, some of whom expressed the belief that further delay was an effort to "wear them out."
The Council, however, announced that the hearing would be adjourned until January 21.
